Independent Auditor's Report

To the Board of Directors
Citizen University
Seattle, Washington

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of Citizen University, which comprise the statement of financial position as of June 30, 2025, and the related statements of activities, functional expenses, and cash flows for the year then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Citizen University as of June 30, 2025, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAS). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are required to be independent of Citizen University and to meet our other ethical responsibilities, in accordance with the relevant ethical requirements relating to our audit. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Report on Summarized Comparative Information

We have previously audited Citizen University's June 30, 2024 financial statements, and we expressed an unmodified audit opinion on those audited financial statements in our report dated November 14, 2024. In our opinion, the summarized comparative information presented herein as of and for the year ended June 30, 2024 is consistent, in all material respects, with the audited financial statements from which it has been derived.

Responsibilities of Management for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, and for the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is required to evaluate whether there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about Citizen University's ability to continue as a going concern for one year after the date that the financial statements are available to be issued.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not absolute assurance and therefore is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with GAAS will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control. Misstatements are considered material if there is a substantial likelihood that, individually or in the aggregate, they would influence the judgment made by a reasonable user based on the financial statements.

In performing an audit in accordance with GAAS, we:

- Exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.
- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, and design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks. Such procedures include examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of Citizen University's internal control. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluate the overall presentation of the financial statements.
- Conclude whether, in our judgment, there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about Citizen University's ability to continue as a going concern for a reasonable period of time.

We are required to communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit, significant audit findings, and certain internal control-related matters that we identified during the audit.

CITIZEN UNIVERSITY

Note 1 - Nature of the Organization

Citizen University (the Organization) is a not-for-profit corporation exempt from federal income tax under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. The Organization was incorporated in the state of Washington in 2013 with the mission to build a widespread understanding of citizenship, a belief that democracy matters, and a commitment to participate. The Organization is helping to create a vital, expanding ecosystem of groups, associations, and individuals committed to this ideal.

Note 2 - Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Presentation - The financial statements of the Organization are presented on the accrual basis of accounting. Net assets, revenue, gains, and losses are classified based on the existence or absence of donor-imposed restrictions. Accordingly, the net assets of the Organization and changes therein are classified and reported as follows:

Net Assets Without Donor Restrictions - Net assets that are not subject to or are no longer subject to donor-imposed restrictions.

Net Assets With Donor Restrictions - Net assets subject to donor-imposed restrictions that will be met either by actions of the Organization or passage of time.

Revenues are reported as increases in net assets without donor restrictions unless use of the related assets is limited by donor-imposed restrictions. Expenses are reported as decreases in net assets without donor restrictions. Gains and losses on investments and other assets and liabilities are reported as increases or decreases in net assets without donor restrictions unless their use is restricted by explicit donor stipulation or by law. Expirations of restrictions on net assets (i.e., the donor-stipulated purpose has been fulfilled or the stipulated time period has lapsed) are reported as reclassifications between the applicable classes of net assets. Restricted contributions are reported in the financial statements as increases in net assets without donor restrictions when they are received and used for the restricted purpose in the same year.

Cash and Cash Equivalents - Cash and cash equivalents consist of cash on hand and certificates of deposits with maturities of three months or less when purchased. At times, the Organization may have deposits in excess of federally insured limits. Financial instruments which potentially subject the Organization to concentrations of credit risk consist of cash.

Short-Term Investments - Short-term investments consists of insured cash accounts. Investment income is included as other revenue on the statement of activities.

Pledges Receivable - Pledges receivable are stated at the amount management expects to collect from outstanding balances. Management provides for probable uncollectible amounts through a charge to earnings and a credit to a valuation allowance based on its assessment of the current status of individual accounts. Balances that are still outstanding after management has used reasonable collection efforts are written off through a charge to the valuation allowance and a credit to pledges receivable. There was no valuation allowance for pledges receivable as of June 30, 2025 and 2024.

Support and Revenue Recognition - The Organization recognizes contributions when cash, securities, or other assets, an unconditional promise to give, or notification of a beneficial interest is received. Conditional promises to give, that is, those with a measurable performance or other barrier, and a right of return, are not recognized until the conditions on which they depend have been met. The Organization had no such conditional promises to give as of the years ended June 30, 2025 or 2024.

Concentration of Revenues and Related Receivables - Contribution revenue from four donors represented 73% and revenue from three donors represented 89% of total revenue and support for the years ended June 30, 2025 and 2024, respectively. Pledge balances from three donors represented 84% and 100% of total pledges receivable at June 30, 2025 and 2024, respectively.

Functional Allocation of Expenses - Expenses consist of the costs related to providing program services, fundraising, and management and general functions. Payroll is allocated based on the percentage of time each staff member spends on each activity, on an annual basis. All other costs are directly charged to the function they benefit.

Use of Estimates - The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Advertising - Advertising costs are expensed as they are incurred. Advertising costs of $10,645 and $12,767 for the years ended June 30, 2025 and 2024, respectively, are included in expenses.

Leases - The Organization determines if an arrangement contains a lease at inception. Right-of-use (ROU) assets represent a right to use an underlying asset for the lease term and operating lease liabilities represent the Organization's obligation to make lease payments arising from the lease. ROU assets and lease liabilities are recognized at the lease commencement date based on the present value of lease payments over the lease term. If the Organization's leases do not provide an implicit rate of return, the Organization uses the risk-free discount rate, determined using a period comparable with that of the lease term from the later of the lease commencement date or implementation date. Lease terms may include options to extend or terminate the lease when it is reasonably certain that the Organization will exercise that option. Lease expense for lease payments is recognized on a straight-line basis over the lease term. A ROU asset and operating lease liability is not recognized for leases with an initial term of 12 months or less or when total lease payments are less than $5,000.

Subsequent Events - The Organization has evaluated subsequent events through December 8, 2025, the date on which the financial statements were available to be issued.
